Convenient and sized to fit each application!

Sargento portion-control packaging solutions give you the means to control the amount of sauce or cheese you deliver in your application without waste. Our product development experts will ensure that you get optimal performance characteristics in your cheese or sauce ingredient—taste, texture, flow, melt, etc. With our portion-control packaging solutions, you will get RTU, preportioned, packed sauces and cheeses to add directly to your manufacturing line.

Consumer insight

Convenience still trumps all other trends when it comes to meal preparation. Evidence of this is the growing number of packaging claims for convenience, which rose 69% from 2007 to 2010. Market demands of time-starved consumers who frequently need to eat short, quick, on-the-go meals are driving the convenience factor. This hunger for convenience may explain why almost one-quarter of all dinners eaten last year were frozen.

Try our frozen sauce pellets

Individually Quick Frozen (IQF) Portionables® are perfect for creating sauces. Using fresh ingredients and flavorful seasonings, Portionables® pieces maintain colorful particulates like peppers and herbs when frozen.

The unique way Portionables® are produced, gives them a clean ingredient statement and allows portion control. And sauces are only the beginning; soups, beverages, side dishes and more can be made into Portionables® too.
